

Privacy Policies

Children's of Alabama (Children's) is committed to privacy on its Website, www.childrensal.org.

ABOUT YOUR INFORMATION:

Children's does not collect identifying information about You (such as Your name, address, telephone number, health information, insurance information, credit card information, or email address) unless You voluntarily submit that information to us. This includes but is not limited to information such as comments, payments for patient care services, granting donations, sending job or volunteer inquiries, ordering logo merchandise, and/or requesting newsletters.

Children's may use cookies to facilitate the "access to" and "usage of" our websites. The intent is to provide a more user-friendly or customized website experience. We do not use cookies to collect data for future contact outside the realm of our websites. Most browsers offer instructions on how to reset the browser to reject cookies in the "Help" section of the toolbar. You do not have to accept cookies in order to use our sites.

Children's reserves its right to disclose any information in its possession if it is required to do so by law, or it believes, in good faith, that such a disclosure is necessary to comply with the law, defend its rights or property, or to respond to an emergency situation.

Security

Children's utilizes reasonable security measures to protect the personal information You submit to it. Such security involves the use of SSL-secured Web forms, Firewalls, and other commonly employed security methods. However, due to the nature of the internet, Children's is unable to guarantee complete security of its Website.

Other Sites

Children's privacy policy applies only to your use of the Website. Children's is not responsible for the privacy practices of sites linked to the Children's website. You should read the privacy policies of each site you visit to determine what information that site may be collecting about you.

User Submissions

Children's welcomes Your comments on its Content and the information contained herein. You understand you do so at your own choice. However, You acknowledge that if You send Children's or sites that are linked to Children's creative suggestions, ideas, notes, drawings, concepts, inventions or other information, (collectively, the "Information"), the Information shall be deemed, and shall remain, the property of Children's. By submission of any Information to us, You assign to us and we shall exclusively own all now known or hereafter existing rights to such Information and shall be entitled to unrestricted use of the Information for any purpose whatsoever, commercial or otherwise, without compensation to You.

Appropriate Use

You are responsible for complying with the law and the terms and conditions of our Website. You are responsible if you violate of the terms of conditions of our Website. Children's is not responsible for monitoring all the content on its website. However, Children's reserves the right to expel users and prevent their further access to this site for violating these terms or the law and reserves the right to remove any communications from this site. The violation of any of the terms and conditions set forth on this Terms and Conditions page shall result in the immediate revocation of Your right to use the Content.

A Note to Parents

You are responsible to supervise your child on this website to make sure they are utilizing this website according to your wishes.

Changes to Our Privacy and Security Policies

Just as with the other terms and conditions of this website, Children's of may change the terms and conditions of our Privacy Policies at any time without notice to you by posting revisions on the Website. By accessing or using the Website, you agree to be bound by all of the terms and conditions of the Agreement as posted on the Website at the time of your access or use, including the Privacy Policies then in effect.

Contact Information

If you have any questions about these privacy policies or the practices of this site, please contact Children's Corporate Communications at (205) 939-6660.

Written: March 26, 2012